

I am honored to present my candidacy as a member of the ESGO council for Western Europe. If I may first introduce myself, I am Cherif Akladios. I have been a Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology since 2017 and Head of Department at the University Hospital of Strasbourg-France since 2018.

I am the elected secretary of the French Society of Gynecological Oncology along with the regional Northeast coordinator of the national board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, as well as the elected representative of this region at the National College of French Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

I deeply believe and totally adhere to the vision of the ESGO in its different policies, aiming to improve the management gynecologic oncology.

I'm convinced that the lack of expertise in surgical oncology is eminently prejudicial to the prognosis of patients with gynecological cancers. The ESGO has taken on the task of raising the level of specialization of onco-gynecologists, but in my opinion there is still much work to be done to spread this vision and ensure it is not only shared by the elite, but by all European gynecologists, even those who are themselves not onco-gynecologists. In my view, this requires close interaction with the relevant societies.

It's through this lens that I have initiated, through the SFOG: French Society of Gynecologic Oncology, a French national certification of a curriculum that reproduces almost word for word the ESGO curriculum. The strong point of this approach is that it brings together the different national actors in the field of gynecological surgical oncology, which gives it a better chance of spreading throughout the country.

Furthermore, together with the SFOG, I have created a new group (SFOG-Campus) for young specialists with the aim to integrate the ENYGO's visions. As a matter of fact, one of my ambitions is to enhance the interactions between French onco-gynecologists and the ESGO, and, another is to endorse and reaffirm the leadership of the ESGO.

Being a member of the ESGO council would be an honor but also, and above all, a challenge that I feel ready to take up.

Sincerely,

Cherif Akladios

Name- First Name: AKLADIOS Cherif
Date and place of birth: 07/07/1970 in Alexandria-
Egypt
Nationality: French/ Egyptian
Family Situation: Married, 2 children

Current position

Professor of Obstetrics and gynaecology.
Faculty of medicine
Strasbourg University

Training

- 1994: MBBCh. Alexandria University - Egypt
- 1996- 2001: Residency in obstetrics and gynaecology, Strasbourg-France
- 2001-2002: Fellow, Lorraine anti-cancer centre, Nancy-France
- 2002- MD, Biomaterials and bio-engineering
- 2004-2009: PhD, Strasbourg University
- 2011: accreditation to direct research, Strasbourg University

Clinical managerial positions

- 2018 -: Head of Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Hautepierre University Hospital –Strasbourg. France.
- 2023-: Head of Department of Obstetrics, Gynaecology and Fertility, Strasbourg University Hospital –Strasbourg. France
- 2021-: Coordinator of the department of Gynaecologic oncology. Strasbourg-Europe Cancer-Institute (ICANS)

Teaching positions

- 2017 -: Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, University of Strasbourg- France.
- 2019 -: regional Northeast coordinator of the national board of Obstetrics and Gynecology
- 2016 -: co-Director of Courses on Gynaecologic Oncology. IRCAD -France

International teaching

- 2010 -: regular, live surgery demonstrations and invited lectures in Egypt –ALEXEA Training centre.
-

Research

- Member of the scientific board of the Inserm Unit 1109: Molecular Immuno-Oncology
- Member of the scientific board of the IRCAD- IHU.

Learned societies

2019 - : Secretary of the French society of Gynecologic Oncology (SFOG)

2020 - : Member of the board of the National College of French Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

2022-: Member of the Committee on Women's Cancer (FIGO)

Publications

- More than 200 publications
- 180 publications referenced in PubMed

Editorial activities

- Editor for gynaecological surgery in WEBSURG. The educational online portal of the IRCAD
- Member of the editorial team of: Reflexion en Gynecologie-Obstétrique